Ans:

- Executive.
- Legislature.
- Judiciary.
- Executive.

Que 7: Why is the Prime Minister in India not directly elected by the people? Choose the most appropriate answer and give reasons for your choice.

- In a Parliamentary democracy only the leader of the majority party in the Lok Sabha can become the Prime Minister.
- Lok Sabha can remove the Prime Minister and the Council of Ministers even before the expiry of their term.
- Since the Prime Minister is appointed by the President there is no need for it.
- Direct election of the Prime Minister will involve lot of expenditure on election.

Ans: In a parliamentary democracy, only the leader of the majority party in the Lok Sabha can become the Prime Minister. This is true because in the parliamentary system all the policies and plans are passed on the basis of majority. If the leader of the majority party is not made the Prime Minister, then he will not be able to implement his policies and plans in the absence of majority.

Que 8: Three friends went to watch a film that showed the hero becoming Chief Minister for a day and making big changes in the state. Imran said this is what the country needs. Rizwan said this kind of a personal rule without institutions is dangerous. Shankar said all this is a fantasy. No minister can do anything in one day. What would be your reaction to such a film?

Ans: What has happened in such films seems morally right. But so many reforms are not possible in a single day. We must keep improving continuously.

Que 9: A teacher was making preparations for a mock parliament. She called two students to act as leaders of two political parties. She gave them an option: Each one could choose to have a majority either in the mock Lok Sabha or in the mock Rajya Sabha. If this choice was given to you, which one would you choose and why?

Ans: I would like to be the leader of the majority party in the Lok Sabha because the leader of the majority party in the Lok Sabha becomes the Prime Minister. The one who has more powers. It is the Prime Minister who expands the cabinet. All executive decisions are taken by the Prime Minister. This is a powerful post.

Que 10: After reading the example of the reservation order, three students had different reactions about the role of the judiciary. Which view, according to you, is a correct reading of the role of judiciary?

- Srinivas argues that since the Supreme Court agreed with the government, it is not independent.
- Anjaiah says that judiciary is independent because it could have given a verdict against the government order. The Supreme Court did direct the government to modify it.
- Vijaya thinks that the judiciary is neither independent nor conformist, but acts as a mediator between opposing parties. The court struck a good balance between those who supported and those who opposed the order.

Ans: (b) In my opinion, Anjaiah is right in saying that the judiciary is independent as it can pass judgment against the orders of the government. The Supreme Court directed the government to amend it.
